Cathedral High School Graduates the Class of 2017

With the Cathedral of the Holy Cross closed for a year-long renovation, graduation exercises, the 57th for Cathedral High School, took place last Saturday morning, May 20 at St. James Church in Chinatown. At 10 a.m. the graduates, girls in yellow and boys in green, filed into the church and took their seats in a reserved front section. Dr. Helenann Oxton, principal, welcomed all, delivered the invocation and served as

Continued on page 4

Cathedral grads file into St. James Church

Increasing Access to Art

From the South End to Worldwide

Submitted by Susan Collins
TheArtConnection

The Art Connection has always been excited to move forward with our founder Eva Chancellor’s mission of spreading access to art. One way we

Continued on page 5

Photo courtesy The Art Connection

Talking and listening with a personal touch

Michael Kelley, candidate for City Council District 2

By Michele D. Maniscalco

This is the first in a series of profiles of the candidates for city council and mayor.

Since his childhood in public housing in Revere with a father who worked two jobs and a mother who worked hard to fulfill those dreams and to serve the community, Michael Kelley has been driven to live up to

Continued on page 4

Michael Kelley

South End Summer Preview

By Michele D. Maniscalco

As the weather gets warmer and the days get longer, South End community groups are preparing to fill our summer with music, dancing, food, outdoor fun in our many open spaces. All events in these listings are free, open to the public and suitable except where indicated. Enjoy!

Childe Hassam Park at Columbus Avenue near Dorchester Street launches its summer schedule with a festive Park Opening on Thursday, May 25 at 5:00 PM with free wine tasting from Urban Grape, music by musician and composer Yohi Kodate and a silent auction offering works by local artists and gifts from Fleur,

Continued on page 2

ASK DOG LADY

Advice on Pets, Life, Love

By Monica Collins

Dear Dog Lady,

My boyfriend of seven years and I have split up. He has an English bulldog, Bunco, together. The dog will be two in September. My "ex" put down the money to purchase Bunco so technically the dog is his. We have agreed to share him equally since I am so attached. My

Continued on page 2

Boston’s new default speed limit is 25 mph.

Unless otherwise posted, the speed limit on all City of Boston roadways will be 25 mph.
Dog Lady

Continued from page 1

sharing dog's emotions both parties have equal say in how the dog is treated. Make sure you agree to use the same veterinarian. Bums will enjoy the benefits of friends, which you and your dog should receive for the sake of the bully.

Dear Dog Lady,

I have been an animal person all my life. I grow up with four different cats but have always wanted a dog. Now that I’m 29 and stable and in a place where I can devote enough time to a dog, I’m wondering which of the following breeds would be best suited to my conditions: I am currently living for one or two bedroom apartments with no yard just as but I want there to be a nearby outdoor area. I want to be able to walk here twice the dog at least once a day, or more. I’m willing to groom the dog once or twice a week. I want a mid-sized to large dog with a long thick coat.

The dog breeds I’m most interested in are:

1. Samoyed
2. Siberian Husky
3. Dalmatian
4. Newfoundland
5. Labrador Retriever

Which of these dog breeds are for a first-time dog owner who is generally great with animals?

Most dogs tend to love me. I’m also looking for the most affectionate type of dog. I’m really interested in the first three breed options due to their sthetic quality and beauty.

Dear Adam,

Dog owners have options. Don’t let the size of your dog affect your. Choose the time you want to dedicate to your dog's lifestyle. Even if the time you mentioned would be a mid-sized dog, I’m not fully committed to that idea, and I think a small dog would be a better fit.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want a dog. I love keeping it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.

- Brittany

Dear Brittany,

Wrong one. Dog Lady loves you and your friends, the fellow who gave you the dog was not considering your feelings when he gave you the dog. Instead, someone with a copy of this article who wrote you a thoughtful letter — no matter what it is — that your dog fondly lives on the couch, on your lap, in your arms, and in your heart.

Dear Dog Lady,

I agree. I’ve been seeing a few months of my girlfriend and gave me a live dog for my birthday. She knows I have a purebreed dog, and I was very surprised. I had never thought about this before. I never asked for a dog and I’m still deciding whether I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it. I know I want to keep it.
Summer
Continued from page 2

events/73419526832850

The Worcester Square Area Neighborhood Association (WSANA) reprises its monthly summer concert series, Music on the Square, on June 15, July 20 and August 15, the third Thursday of each month at 7:00 PM. Bring a blanket and a picnic and relax among the roses and the picturesque fountain to a variety of sounds to be announced. As of press time, only the July 20 act, Opera on Tap, is confirmed, but details on the June and August will be posted on WSANA’s Facebook page (link: www.facebook.com/WorcesterSquare). For more information, contact the WSANA board members.

Greeting a jump on celebrations of the summer solstice, Fete de la Musique returns this year on Saturday, June 17 in a special edition, La Fete de la Musique, honoring the departure of Community Music Center of Boston executive director David Logain. In addition to concerts in Riggedge, Childie Has- ham, Frieda Garcia and Union Parks, there will be a block party on Warren Avenue between Berkeley and Clarendon Streets with Ben & Jerry’s ice cream, Blackbird Doughnuts, face painting and other family-friendly activities as well as a New Orleans-style brass band. The concerts run from 3:00-6:00 PM and the block party is scheduled from 3:00-6:00 PM. Please visit https://lnchb.org/events/fete-de-la-musique/ for details on entertainment and locations.

For the fifth year in a row, Washington Gateway Main Street celebrates the longest day of the year at its Summer Solstice party in Blackstone Square on Saturday, June 21 from 6:00-9:00 PM with plenty of good music, food and friendly neighbors, with adult beverages in the beer garden to quench your thirst. Admission to the party is free and all ages.

Childie Hasman Park will host a Children’s Music Program offering free music classes on Wednesday mornings, June 28 through August 9 at 9:30 AM. IRA Arts, the Boston Parks and Recreation Department (BPRD) and Berklee College of Music put on the cultural into O’Day Playground, 87 W. Newton Street, starting on Thursday, July 6 at 7:00 PM when the Tito Puente Latin Music Series returns with salsa from Tambi/Tambies (tambies player) Eric German y su Orquesta. The fun continues on Thursday, July 13 with singer/samba player Zaira Pela brings the dance rhythms of Puerto Rico to O’Day. The Tito Puente concerts at O’Day conclude on Thursday, August 8 with Joby’s Cumbia Guitarrero Barrio, a permutation duo who blend hip-hop with the traditional genres from Cuba and Brazil. They will be joined by Afro-Cuban drummers Nono Basso for a performance designed to get the crowd participating as well as dancing. See www.titopuentelatinmusicseries.com for further details.

On Monday, July 10, the city-sponsored ParkARTS program brings music to Blackstone Square at the ParkMTS Neighborhood Concert. Get ready to dance to the masters of ceremonies.
Cathedral High
Continued from page 1

The salutatory address was presented by Daniel Janowicewicz and the valedictory by Amberne Leigh McDonald. Several awards were presented to the following graduates:

Spirit Award: Body and Jean Baptiste, Covenant Award: Jennifer K. Joseph, Service Award: Barbara J. Williams, Vincent Viner for overall academic excellence. Jana G. Jones is the winner. Several graduates of the class of 1967 attended and were presented golden jubilee diplomas.

The Class of 2017

Summer
Continued from page 1

rounds of the Soul City Band from 7:00-8:30 PM.

FESP hopes to bring out the creative side with free events in South End Parks. Peten Park will host Art in Residence Workshops on Thursdays, July 13, 20, and 27 from 10:00-15:00 PM, and a Watercolor Painting Workshop on Sunday, September 10 from 12:00-2:00 PM. For complete details on FESP’s Summer in the Park events, see www.boston.gov/arts/arts/EastEndCulturalCalendar-162017-2017_summer_guide.pdf

Villa Victoria threw a party for the neighborhood’s third weekend of July with Festival Bateson, July 15 and 16 from 10:00-15:00 PM in Flamen R.ResponseWriter, 1 Newly Place Street.

There will be live music and dance in a variety of genres representing Puerto Rico and Latin America as well as food and craft vendors, the traditional Puerto Rican green police competition, and family-friendly activities. Visit www.boston.gov/arts/arts/EastEndCulturalCalendar-162017-2017_summer_guide.pdf his parents’ examples. As a young adult, he owned and operated classics consignment store, founded with his mother and siblings in Revere, and later worked as a aide in Mayor Menino in the Office of Neighborhood Services (ONS). Now Kelley is hoping to succeed Bill Linehan at District 2 City Council.

Kelley
Continued from page 1

"It has been around a long time, but this is my first time as a candidate. This is all new to me," Michael Kelley said of his first campaign for elected office over coffee at the South End Bakery on Summer Street Avenue. Kelley is making the rounds to meet the voters in South Boston, Boy Village and the South End, where he lives for 35 years. His approach is intensely personal: he attends community meetings and social events, shaking hands, introducing himself and listening to people's hopes and priorities.

He admits that he doesn’t have a laundry list of policy proposals in mind, but is sitting through his own experiences as a city resident and public servant as well as the input he is gathering from constituents to inform his activities as a councilor.

"I have an idea of the issues I want to work on and what I want to happen, but specific policy proposals will take time. What I am doing now is sitting down with people about all these different issues and saying, 'How do you think we should do this?'" Kelley explained. In revealing himself to residents, he talks a lot about his foundation in life: his family. "I talk about my parents and how important they have been to me. I talk about my family and that’s a big part of who I am.

Having lost his father in February 2016, one day after moving into the Boy Village house that he purchased with his husband, Richard Rodriguez, Kelley is still coping with the loss and often breaks the ice with humor before delving into the row housing topic of his family. "I can’t talk about when I am without it, but if I start right out with it... it takes me a while to get ready," he said.

While a buddy check of District 2 is in South Boston and two of his four opponents, Ed Flynn and Costa Dimitropoulos are incumbent Bill Linehan is deeply rooted in Southie, Kelley brings a South End sensibility to the race, giving more of a voice for a neighbor that is split into three separate city council districts, none of them represented by South End residents.

Well before his March 30 campaign kickoff party, which packed the Villa Victoria Center for the Arts on W. Newton Street, Kelley began making the South End social rounds, meeting residents at the Get Tagged benefit for the Peten Park Art Wall, the Castle Square Townhouse Organization’s Chinese New Year and Black History Month celebrations, sailboat bingos at the Art Connection’s April 29 Art Bingo fundraiser and the addressing the May meeting of the Blackstone at Franklin continue to keep a cycle of sharing and learning best practices for that work is through our biannual Expansion Summit, which gathers grant recipients from The Fay Slover Fund at The Boston Foundation. While the grantees come from places like Kentucky, New York, Seattle, Chicago, and even Italy, everyone was able to convene in the South End at Castle Square Tenants Organization on Friday, May 19, to talk about ways to keep art accessible, especially for those who lack resources in underserved communities.

Continued on page 6

In addition to being one of the most beloved partners and neighbors, Castle Square Tenants Organization has been a recipient of two placements for over 30 works of art from The Art Connection. One of the highlights of having them host the 2017 Expansion Summit was allowing attendees to tour their facilities with their staff Debbie Campbell and Irene Chan. Attendees were also able to tour Tufts Medical Center’s Mammography Department, where one of the grantees, Healing Photo Arts, has placed colorful nature photography to uplift the spirits of all who inhabit the space. This group places photographs in hospitals around the world.

To round out the perspectives presented, local artist doctors Prilla Smith Beckett and Maria Tommasini shared their experiences as artists and touched upon the gratitude felt when they experience the positive impact their art infuses into social service agencies. After a full day of sharing the triumphs and challenges of collaboration, systems, and fundraising, there was an opportunity to end loose at an after party, hosted by The Art Connection Board Member Susan Bradley.

Overall, we look forward to seeing the fruits of this gathering at out next Expansion Summit 2017.

Art

Continued from page 1

President & CEO

Stuart Anthony, Art Connects New York

Alpine Bid, Board Member, The Art Connection in the Capital Region

Julie Covens, Executive Director, The Art Connection in the Capital Region

Wendy Ingersoll, The Art Connection in Rhode Island

Ingrid Parker, School of the Art Institute of Chicago

Elaine Poggi, Healing Photo Arts, St. Louis

and Florence, Italy

Holly Jacobson, Path with Art, Seattle

Nathen Zarzour, LexArts, Lexington, KY

Juliana Morin, Flower City Arts, Rochester, NY

Katherine French, Catanount Arts, St. Johnsbury, VT

Call Flynn, Catanount Arts Advisory Board

Expansion Committee Members (act as advisors to The Fay Slover Fund at The Boston Foundation)

Cara Bird, representing the Chandler family (morning through lunch, 11:30 PM)

Hilary Biddle, Committee Chair (morning until noon only)

Michael Rousmous, The Art Connection Board Chair (morning through 12:30 PM)

Chantal Therwil, Program Manager, The Art Connection

Susan Collins, Executive Director, The Art Connection

Links to find our grant recipients attending: www.artconnection.org/expansion2017/
Kelley
Continued from page 4
Square Neighborhood Association (B/SSNA) to name a few.
Kelley’s love and loyalty for the South End stems from the acceptance he found there.
Having moved into the neighborhood with two roommates in 1991, he sometimes struggled to scrape together his $270 share of the rent, a consequence of poor money management and unstated shift work.
Kelley reflected happily on his 2005 wedding in Hayes Park to Rodriguez, his partner of 11 years. Becoming frustrated with trying to plan a traditional wedding, the pair decided to have an impromptu ceremony in Hayes Park and asked everyone to let them know. “Whoever could make it was there,” he said. The couple and their guests marched through the streets from their apartment to the park, unsure of how they would be received by bystanders. “Walking down the street, everyone whooped and hollered and cheered for us, even some people who were a little rough looking. It was so wonderful,” he reminisced.
An anecdote from his mother’s business experience influenced both Kelley’s commitment to fairness and his approach to dealing with people to accomplish a goal. He recalled his mother sometimes letting her husband speak to her in situations involving their ice cream shop because male librarians and other professionals would not deal directly with a woman.
“That was a lesson for me in how I treat people differently,” Kelley said. “I don’t feel any different if I had the opportunity, stuff like that would never happen,” Kelley said. Yet he saw in the experience a strategy for prevailing in situations with difficult adversaries. “My mother is a strong woman. In determining when to fight and how to fight, my mother sometimes spoke through my father to get things done.”
One area in which Kelley follows in the footsteps of former boss, Mayor Menino, a strong focus on constituent services. “I think that as a city councilor, you have to be committed to and enjoy the nuts and bolts of constituent services. You have to want to make sure the lights are on, the streets are paved, you need to be available so that people know they can rely on you as their first line of defense in getting things done. I am a constituent services and quality-of-life person. I love that stuff.” Among his achievements in CNS South End Liaison, Kelley organized a committee that raised funds and sponsored Movies on the Diamond, a summer movie series for children and teens in the baseball field at Peters Park. Although the service came under the B/S’ city initiative, it began with private funds and donations that the committee raised.
In planning community and business development, Kelley favors community master planning that includes all of the stakeholders—community members, local businesses, local and elected officials and developers working together to plan development projects. Asked about an idea suggested in a recent Ellis South End Neighborhood Association women’s gathering to mandate new developments with retail space include affordable retail spaces for local businesses, Kelley said, “I think there could be some legal issues in mandating small-business space allocations, unless you have some city or state investment or it’s on government-owned land. However, I think it is something that is absolutely possible if people come together on priorities and what we value and [act] as a unified force when developments come.”
“When you talk about development, I believe that one of the most important things is to have a community master plan with lots of stakeholders, the community, businesses, local and elected officials, come together,” Kelley added.
Kelley also expressed concern for the number of people being squeezed out of the South End by housing prices. “I think if we make it a priority, we can improve and build upon the number of affordable units we are building. It’s going to take a lot of work and pulling people together and doing things we have never done before, creating partnerships, looking at smart practices,” he said. “I don’t have all the answers, but I think we are a really smart city with smart people and institutions and we can do this.”

---

Spring Cleaning

For All Seasons

- Trustworthy cleaning services to meet your needs
- Houses, apartments and commercial
- Schedule that works best for you, weekly, bi-weekly, or monthly
- All routine housework, plus special clean-up jobs
- Owner supervised cleaning crew and ensures quality
- Excellent references and competitive rates

Cleaning by Judy

617-501-9645

PARKER HILL APARTMENTS

The Stylish, Distinctive, and Affordable You Desire!

- Heat and Hot water always included
- Modern eat-in kitchen
- Move-in with city view
- Pet free and well carpeted
- Access to New England Baptist Hospital
- Secure entry
- Elevator Clarens
- Private Parking
- Near Public Transportation and much more...

1 Bedroom available for $1,600

Call today for more details and to schedule a visit: 888-709-9813

ASK ABOUT OUR MOVE IN SPECIAL & AVAILABLE SECURITY DEPOSIT PROGRAM

---

Pet of the Week

MooMoo is an energetic and friendly youngster who is seeking for an active family to call his own. He is likely to be the type of cat that follows you everywhere, wanting to be in every room you are in. MooMoo is quite playful, but he can get over-stimulated very easily and can sometimes play rough, (using his claws and teeth to give love bites) so we wouldn’t likely do best in a home with cat savvy people. For this reason he will likely not be a good match for children. As this behavior can sometimes be overwhelming for small kids, MooMoo does not like dogs and probably would do best as the only animal in the home. If you think MooMoo might be a good match for you, please visit our shelter today or call us at 617-900-02. The shelter is open Tuesday through Thursday 1-7 pm & Friday through Sunday 1-4 pm, excluding some holidays. Also, be sure to check out our website: www.bostonrescue.org. NATIONAL’S OFFICE ADDRESS: 170 CHARLES STREET BOSTON, MA 02114

ANIMAL RESCUE OF BOSTON

Getting a Great Pet - Get MooMoo!

www.bostonrescue.org

Steven Cohen

Pet of the Week

Source: Boston.com