Thanksgiving Day at Pine Street Inn

Submitted by Pine Street Inn

On Thanksgiving Day, Mayor Martin J. Walsh, Senator Edward Markey, Representative Aaron Michlewitz, and other officials visited the Pine Street Inn at 444 Harrison Avenue, Boston.

They joined volunteers in serving nearly 200 pies and over 200 volunteers prepared and served nearly 400 meals.

Enchanted Trolley Tour

Submitted by the Office of the Mayor

Mayor Martin J. Walsh announced the schedule for the 2019 Enchanted Trolley Tour, a Boston holiday tradition of lighting holiday trees throughout the City. This year, the Mayor’s Enchanted Trolley Tour will start on Friday, December 6, and end on Sunday, December 8, in neighborhoods throughout Boston. "I love the holiday season around Boston. It’s a great way to gather together as Bostonians and celebrate our neighborhoods, the City and our many neighborhoods," said Mayor Walsh.

It’s very curious how differently an adapting playwright and a. mother director perceive a classic original work. Ken Ludwig considers the mystery “Murder on the Orient Express” a comic, while a. mother director perceives a comic hit like “A Gift of the Night”.

much from the next event, not just in terms of health but also as regards his temperament. Unsanctioned dogs do not mix well with their neutered brethren. They are more aggressive, jumper, and, yes, boisterous. When they show up at the dog park – and, really, they should be banned from social contact with other dogs – intact dogs are the elephants in the room. They should also be barred from coming indoors to socialize because now intact dogs are inclined to lean their paws marking on everything.

Make sure your new pet is "fixed" and then proudly take him out in public.

Don’t leave snow or ice on stairways or fire escapes. All common means of exit must be clear in case of a fire or another emergency.

Shoveling Fines:
We have information on what you can expect to pay in fines each day your sidewalk is unshoveled, or if you shovel snow onto the street. We fine ourselves for City-owned properties too.

Things We Could Use Your Help With:
Don’t shovel or push snow into the street. If you do, the City may fine you.

Remove ice to bare pavement or make as level as possible and treat with sand, sawdust, or similar material. Every year dozens of people are seriously injured slipping and falling on sidewalks.

Please clear any snow that may be blocking a handicap ramp, fire hydrant, or storm drain. If a hydrant is buried in snow, it takes the fire department time to find it and shovel it out.

2,000 meals.

In addition to those having dinner at Pine Street’s headquarters in the South End and other shelter locations, the nearly 850 tenants of Pine Street’s permanent housing locations will celebrate the holiday in 35 residences throughout Boston and Brookline. For some, this is the first Thanksgiving in many years that they have spent in a home. Pine Street’s Outreach team will also deliver holiday meals to men and women on the streets.

Supporting close to 2,000 men and women daily, Pine Street, now in its 50th year, provides permanent housing, job training, emergency shelter and street outreach, with a goal of moving individuals off the street, out of shelters and back to a home and community.
