South End Stabbing Under Investigation by Boston Police

BY SOUTH END STAFE

Boston police are currently investigating a stabbing incident that occurred early Monday morning. The attack left one person hospitalized.

According to Boston police, officers responded to a reported stabbing on East Concord Street at approximately 2:45 a.m. on May 12. Upon arrival, they found a victim with injuries that authorities have classified as non-life-threatening.

As of this report, no arrests have been made in connection with the incident. Police have not released additional information about the case.

Archbishop Richard G. Henning Statement On The Election Of Pope Leo XIV

"With great joy we received the news from Rome: habemus papam! We have apope! I join with Catholics in the Archdiocese of Boston and throughout the world, along with people of good will, in celebrating the election of Pope Leo XIV as the new Holy Father. We pray for him as he begins this ministry as the Vicar of Christ and the Bishop of Rome. May he be for us a visible source and foundation of communion in faith.

In his first words to us, Pope Leo spoke of the peace that is the gift of the Lord Jesus:

Peace be with you all, this is the first greeting of the resurrected Christ, the good shepherd who has given up his life for God. And I should also like this greeting of peace to enter our hearts and our families. (Pope Leo XIV from the balcony of St. Peter's Basilica)

May that peace give him strength and consolation, and may it fill our hearts as we live our own calling."

Carmello Shines in 'Kimberly Akimbo,' A Delightful Musical About Aging and Adventure

By Jules Becker Contributing Writer

David Lindsay-Abaire is a local treasure. The South Boston native has demonstrated a knack at combining comic wittiness and thoughtful insight in plays as different as "Fuddy Meers" and "Rabbit Hole" (for which he won a Pulitzer Prize). In recent years, he has succeeded as well in writing clever books for musicals with striking music by composer Jeanine Tesori ("Fun Home" and "Caroline, Or Change"). Their collaboration in 2008 brought lively fun to "Shrek, the Musical."

Now Hub audiences have the special opportunity to see Lindsay-Abaire's own adaptation of his 2001 play "Kimberly Akimbo" in a sometimes disarming but altogether delightful musical. The playwright's catchy lyrics and matching cleverness from composer Tesori's affecting score clearly helped this 2021 show (first Off-Broadway) win the 2023 Tony Award for best musical as well as honors for book

Malcolm X Centennial Read-a-thon to Take Place in Boston This Weekend

BY SOUTH END NEWS STAFF

A two-day marathon reading of "The Autobiography of Malcolm X" will be held this weekend in Boston to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the civil rights leader's birth. Nearly 200 volunteers will participate in the first-ever community read-a-thon of the iconic work.

The event will take place at the Bruce C. Bolling Municipal Building in Roxbury from noon to 8 p.m. on Saturday, May 17, and 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Sunday, May 18. Community dinners will follow each day's reading, and the entire event will be livestreamed.

Architectandentrepreneur Rosalvn Elder, former bookstore owner and creator of African American Heritage Massachusetts, spearheadedtheinitiative. Theorganizing committee includes local artists. writers, and community leaders Dosha Beard, Danny Harris, Carolyn Ingles, Parmie Polk, Mark Schafer, and Talia Whyte.

"Through a group reading of his Autobiography, which has inspired millions around the globe since its first publication in 1965, we seek to unite and channel our individual aspirations for a better future into a powerful collective voice for change," states the event description.

The read-a-thon is free and open to the public. Attendees may stay for the entire program or any portion of it. Those interested in reading can sign up at malcolmxreadathonboston.com.

Mayor Wu's Coffee Hour at Titus Sparrow Park

10:00 AM 11:00 AM

Mayor Wu's Neighborhood Coffee Hours are a unique opportunity to speak directly with the Mayor, neighborhood liaisons, and staff from City departments about open space and their neighborhoods.

Through these discussions, the Mayor looks forward to hearing how the City of Boston can improve upon local parks, public areas, and City services. Complete the Coffee Hours Community Input Survey to submit your questions and concerns in advance. The team will also have a suggestion box set up at Titus Sparrow Park.

Dunkin' will be on-site to fuel the local community with freshly brewed Iced Coffee and assorted fan-favorite MUNCHKINS® donut hole treats. Dunkin' will brew up even more fun with customized lawn games and gift card give aways. Residents at each event will also be eligible to win a raffle prize from Dunkin'. Each family in attendance will receive a free flowering plant provided by the Boston Parks and Recreation Department, while supplies last. Fresh fruit will be provided by Star Market. Additional support by City Express.

and score. The strong tour at the Emerson Colonial Theatre does full justice to their distinctive collaboration-especially thanks to a standout performance by Carolee Carmello in the title role.

Gifted Carmello (riveting as Lucille Frank in the 1998 Broadway original staging of "Parade") has the daunting challenge of playing a 1999 Bergen County, New Jersey teenage high schooler who is aging far too fast. Kimberly ought to be relishing the arrival of her 16th birthday. Unfortunately she suffers from a rare disease known as progeria-one which makes her age four and a half times faster than normal. Complicating her growing pains all the more are dysfunctional family members. Her father Buddy drinks too much and seems to achieve too little in life. Her mother Pattie is pleased to be pregnant but appears to be paranoid about a well-keptfamilysecret. Eventually heragendarich con woman aunt Debra arrives with a wild scheme involving an actual stolen mailbox and 'washing' the checks inside.

Helping Kimberly to keep her emotional balance is a serendipitous relationship with fellow classmate Seth, who becomes her boyfriend. Both the musicals inspired score and its absorbing book focus on Kimberly's stirring determination to live her life to the fullest despite her all too present mortality (as she has passed the all too common thirteen year age limit of many stricken with progeria. Nerdy Seth delights Kimberly with his wizard-like skill with anagrams (something also loved by the playwright). Four other students-Delia, Martin, Teresa and Aaron-provide important support for Kimberly, and all six share a rich appreciation of their respective feelings about being misfits or outsiders.

Thanks to David Zinn's smart scenic design. this unusual coming of age musical moves comfortably between a popular rink known as Skater Planet, the high school-where lockers revolve to become bookshelves. Kimberly's own room and the family's properly simple living room. Will Kimberly's embrace of life and adventure with Seth have a kind of ripple effecton those around her? Will Buddy turn his life around? Will Pattie find a proper resolution for her secret? Will Debra change her ways?

Lindsay-Abaire's sharp book and lyrics combine with Tesori's rousing music-particularly for the closing "Great Adventure" for a very satisfying closing.

Under Jessica Stone's seamless direction, Carmello and her fellow cast members make Kimberly's transformation equally satisfying? Big voiced Carmello captures Kimberly's courage and spirit-particularly on the solo "Make a Wish." She is impressively commanding as the title aging teenager. Miguel Gil has all of Seth's boundless energy and inner strength. Emily Koch catches Debra's attitude as well as her resourcefulness. Jim Hogan finds Buddy's likeability and his maddening lethargy. Laura Woyaszhas all of Pattie's vulnerability and caring for Buddy, Darron Haves as Martin, Grace Capeless as Delia, Skye Alyssa Friedman as Teresa and Pierce Wheeler as Aaron interact convincingly and dance exuberantly the stylish moves of Danny Mefford's choreography.

Near the end of Lindsay-Abaire's rousing book, Kimberly and Seth plan for a dream adventure. Theatergoers should seize the day and head to the Emerson Colonial. The tour of "Kimberly Akimbo" is a dreamy experience
